

Communicating Like a CEO

With Dan O'Connor

Learning Objectives

- Maintain the floor – as well as your professional composure – when debating, presenting ideas, or arguing a point, and other people try to take the spotlight or sabotage you and your ideas, either in private or in a public forum.
- Debate, disagree, all while boosting your professional image and without sounding disagreeable.
- Carry yourself like a confident, powerful professional, and visually present yourself (using both body language and other non-verbal techniques) like powerful, confident professionals do who know they deserve to be both where they belong and where they are going.

Step 1

Lean in to the interruptor with a forward nod and wide-eyes!

Step 2

Use a “Stop-Gesture”!

Step 3

Deliver an “Anti-Interruptor” statement!

Tips

Use the “Broken Record”!

Tips

Never say “Excuse me” or “I’m sorry”!

Your Danger Phrase | Power Phrase List

Danger Phrase

Excuse me...

If you could let me finish...

Power Phrase

I'm speaking

I'm STILL speaking.

Your Danger Phrase | Power Phrase List

Danger Phrase

I disagree.

Better/as good...

Power Phrase

I see it another way./
I see it differently.

State why an idea is better/good/not as good!

What People Care

People don't care so much
if you agree or don't agree;
they care why.

Choose Your Seat Wisely

Choose Your Seat Wisely

Choose a “power position”
when choosing your seat.

Rule 2

Always bring your “meeting tools”!

Meeting Tools

Notebook

Yellow legal pad

Pen/pencil

...

Meeting Rules

► Hide all Possible Electronics

► Meetings Notebook

Yellow Legal Pad

Pen or Pencil

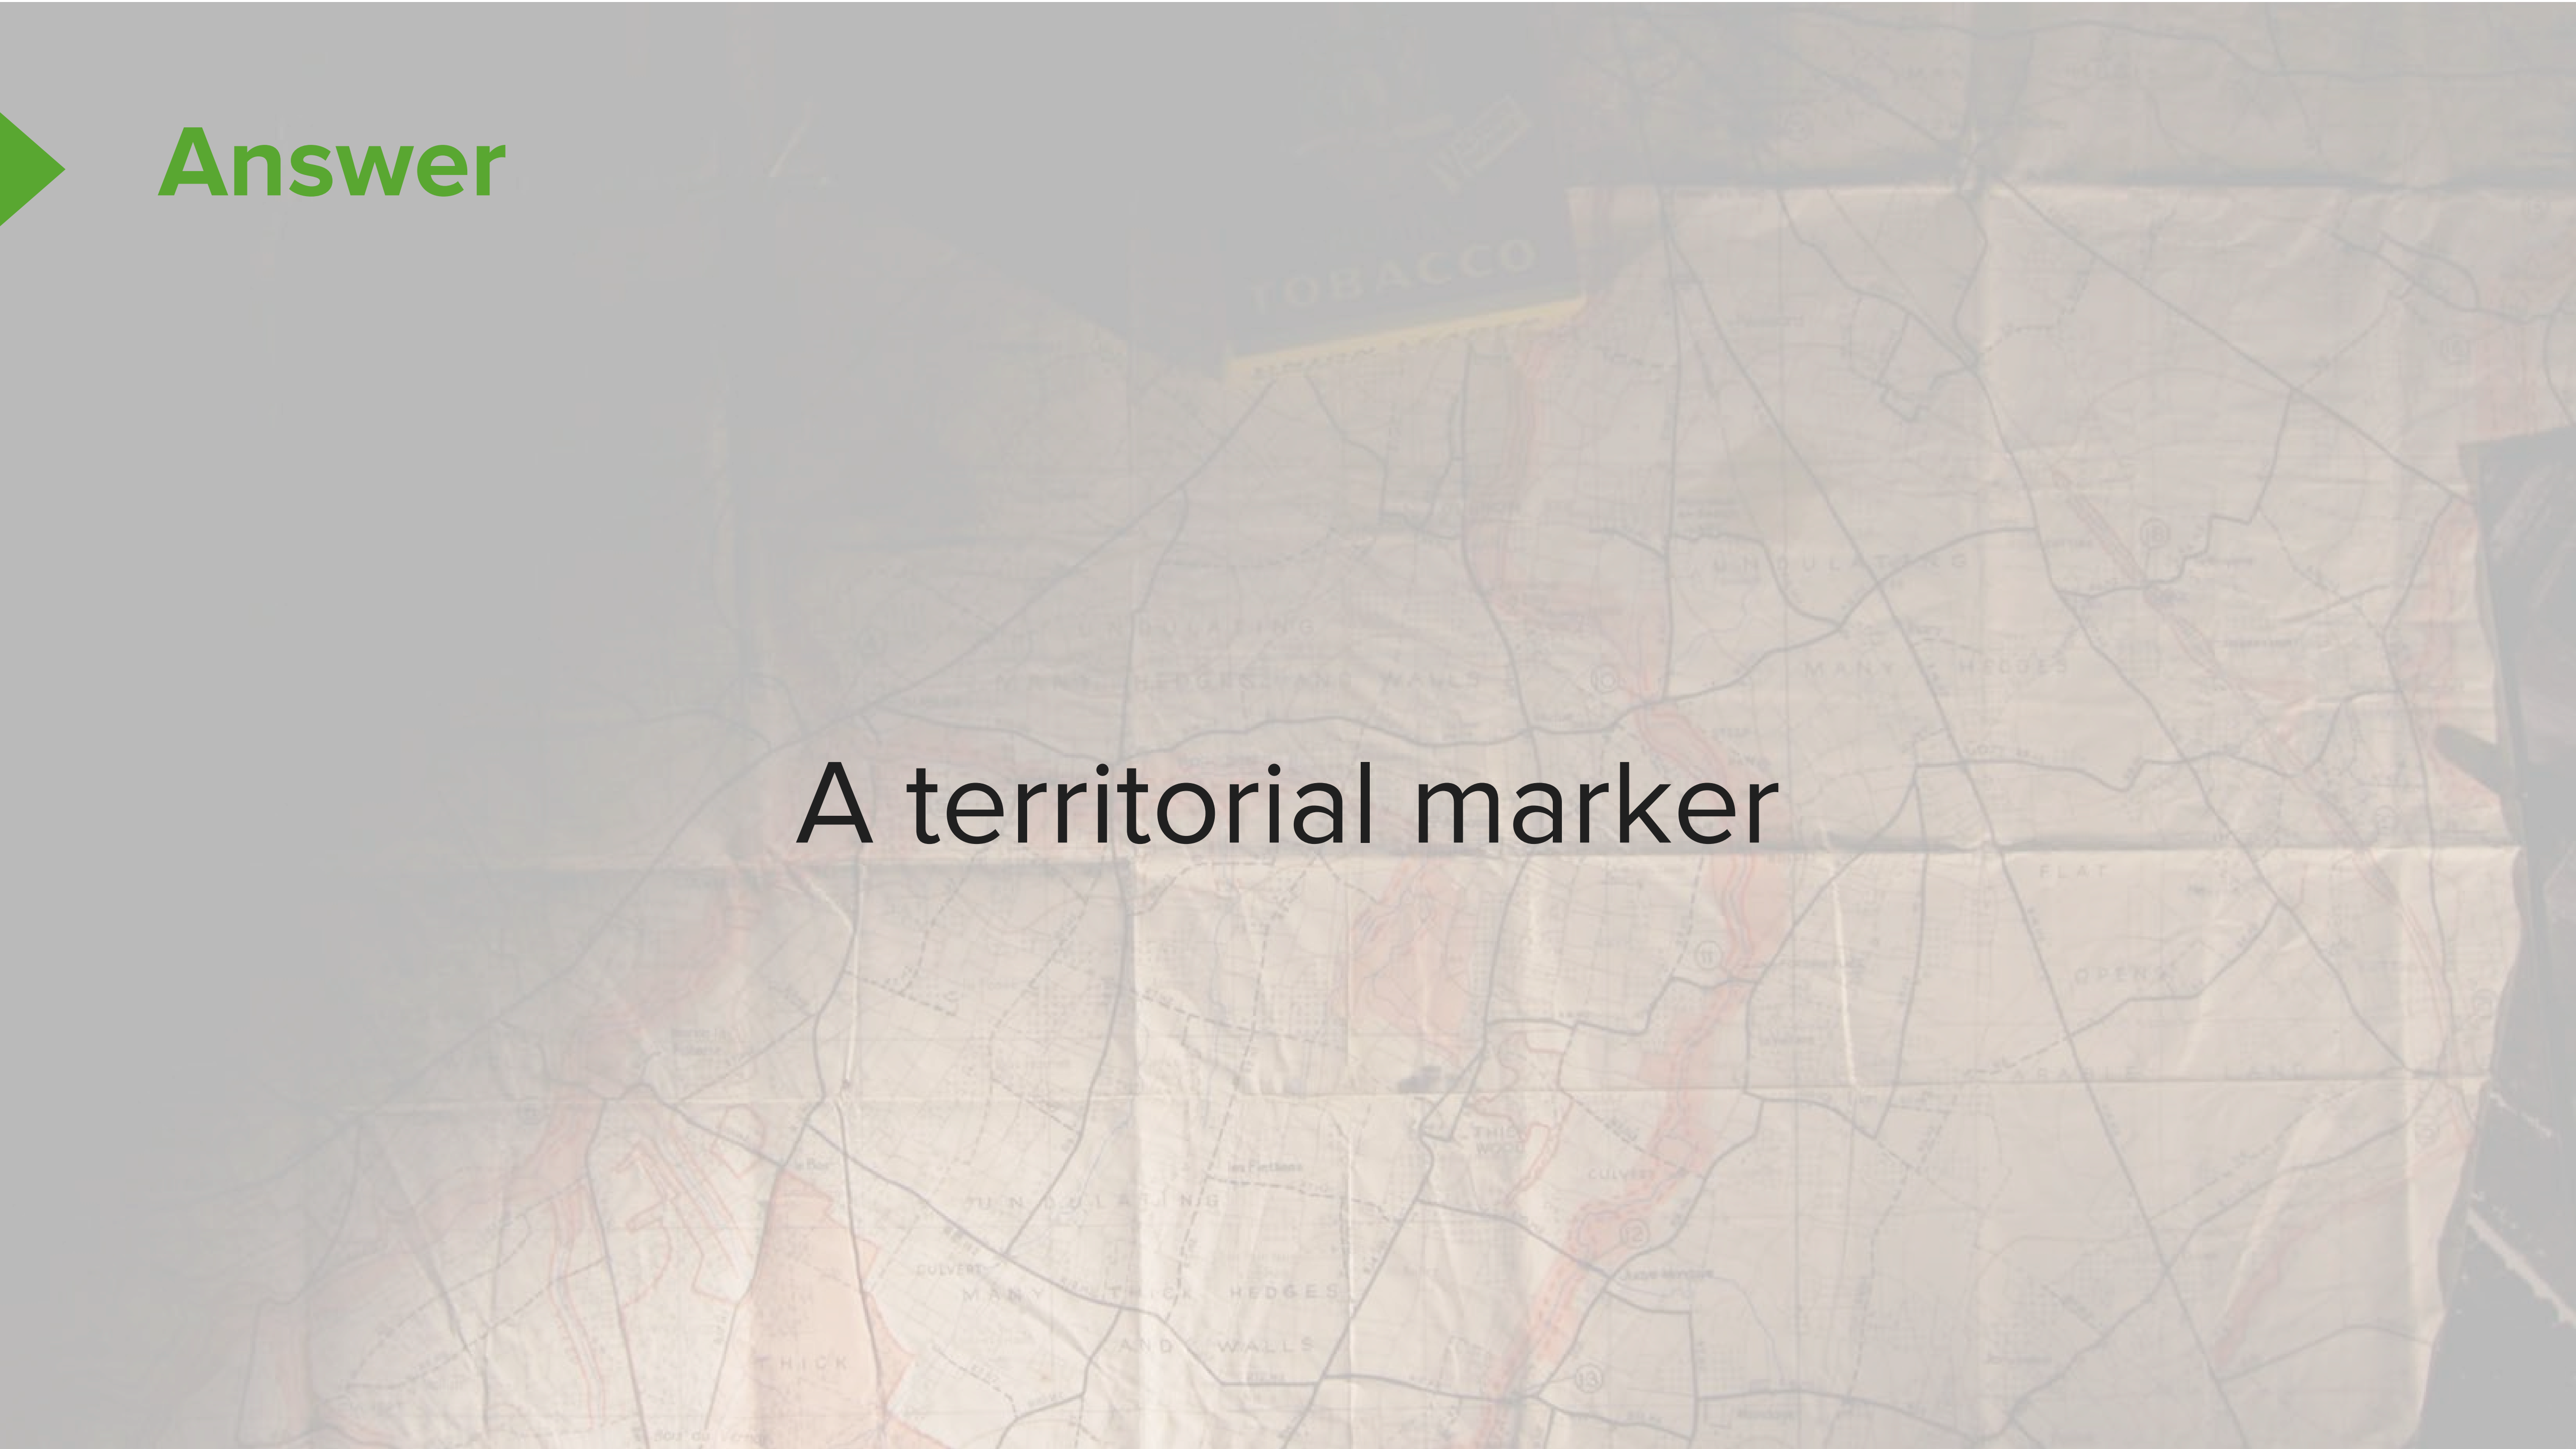

Question

What does an object from the toolkit become when you place it on the table?

Answer

A topographic map of a rural landscape, likely in a tobacco-growing region. The map shows a network of roads, including a prominent road labeled '12' and '13'. The terrain is characterized by 'UNDULATING' hills and 'MANY HEDGES AND WALLS'. A sign for 'TOBACCO' is visible in the upper left. The map also features labels for 'THICK WOOD', 'CULVERT', 'FLAT', and 'OPEN'. The overall tone is sepia, suggesting an older map.

A territorial marker

Learning Outcomes

- ✓ Maintain the floor – as well as your professional composure – when debating, presenting ideas, or arguing a point, and other people try to take the spotlight or sabotage you and your ideas, either in private or in a public forum.
- ✓ Debate, disagree, and even surrender, all while boosting your professional image and without sounding disagreeable.
- ✓ Carry yourself like a confident, powerful professional, and visually present yourself (using both body language and other non-verbal techniques) like powerful, confident professionals do who know they deserve to be both where they belong and where they are going.

