

Staying Focused in Challenging Communication Situations

With Dan O'Connor

Learning Objectives

- Remember who you are when dealing with difficult and demanding communication situations, and focus on the long-term goal rather than the challenge at hand.
- Stay focused and not get sidetracked by insignificant distractions by clearly identifying who you are, why you're here, and what you want before these distractions arise.
- Quickly and easily choose the most effective form for your message (words) by clarifying the substance (your real intention) first.

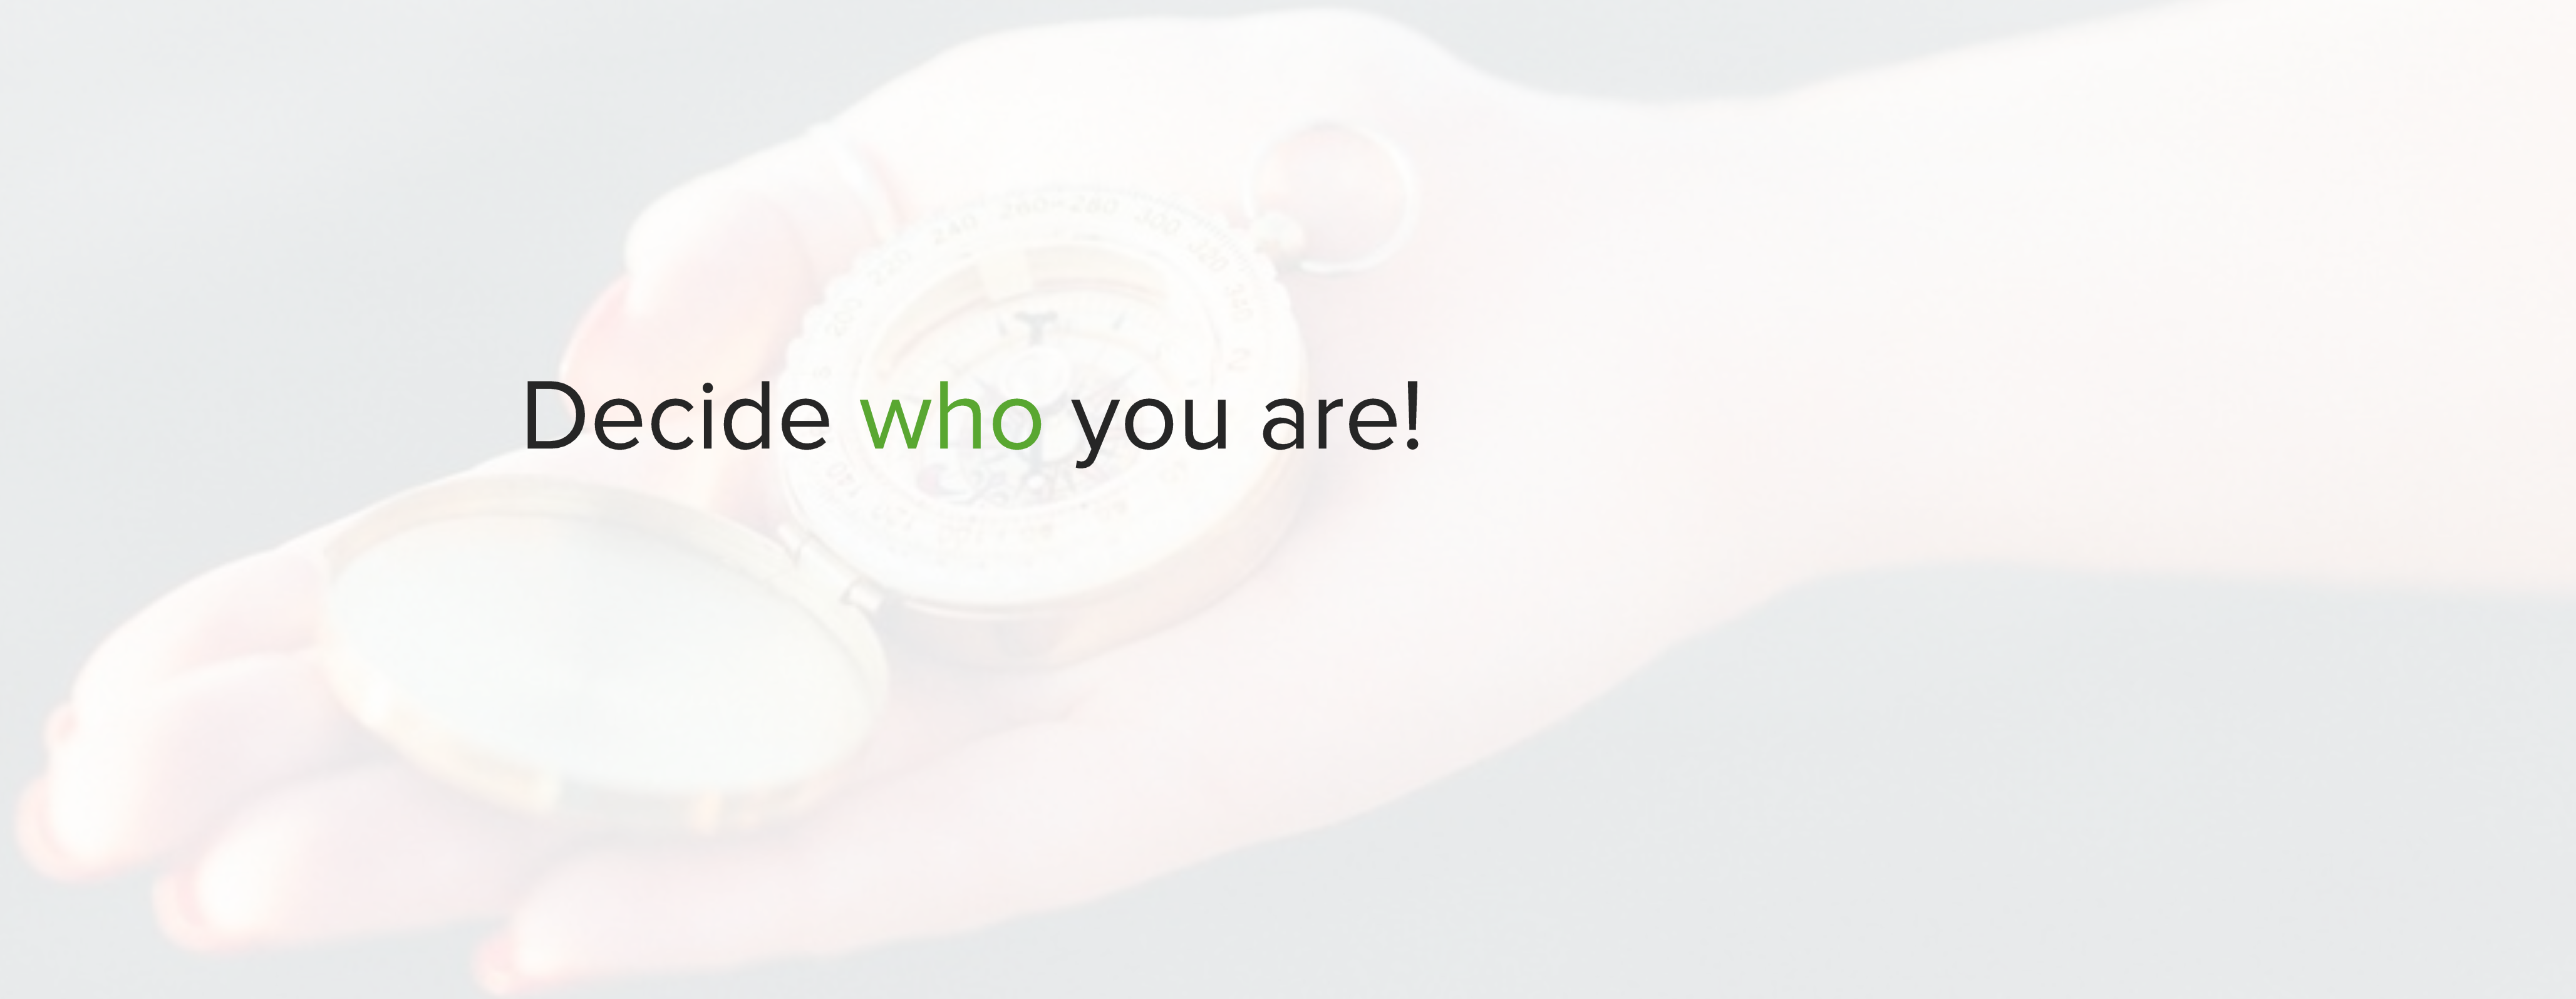

► Your Personal Compass

Step 1

Decide who you are!

Your “I am...” Statements:

I am... :

I am... :

I am... :

Step 2

Decide why you're here!

Why Are You Here?

I'm here to:

I'm here to:

I'm here to:

Step 3

Decide what you want!

What Do You Want?

I want:

I want:

I want:

► Putting It All Together

Your Personal Compass

I am:

I'm here to:

I want:

► Your Personal Compass

Place your personal compass:

- On your wall
- On your fridge
- On your badge
- In your wallet
- On the door
- On your phone

Learning Outcomes

- ✓ Remember who you are when dealing with difficult and demanding communication situations, and focus on the long-term goal rather than the challenge at hand.
- ✓ Stay focused and not get sidetracked by insignificant distractions by clearly identifying who you are, why you're here, and what you want before these distractions arise.
- ✓ Quickly and easily choose the most effective form for your message (words) by clarifying the substance (your real intention) first.

